How to Get Access to NP computing resources (Tier0 and/or Neutrino Computing Cluster) at CERN

UPDATED

Introduction

If you just joined Neutrino Platform, welcome aboard!

- You need to be CERN registered and have a CERN account.
 - ◆ About the Account Management service ↗
 - ◇ Information for newcomers ↗
 - ◇ Information for End Users ↗
 - ◇ Information for Supervisors, Team Leaders and Group Administrators ↗
 - ◆ Keep in mind: AFS is being phased out (end of 2017) at CERN, you might want to look into CERNBOX or EOS ↗ as a storage solution. To activate your CERNBox personal storage space (1 TB, up to 1 million files and the maximum size of a single file is 8GB, hosted in the CERN Computer Center): login to <https://cernbox.cern.ch> ↗ (using your CERN account and password). More info here.
 - ◆ For NP Project and its prototype experiments follow the link.
 - ◆ FYI : There is also client for mobile phones and fixed computers that allow sync. For installation and configuration use the link ↗
- Be aware you must choose np-comp UNIX computing group
 - ◆ <https://resources.web.cern.ch/resources/Manage/Linux/Settings.aspx?login=​> ↗;
- Registered to the corresponding e-group (depending on which protoDUNE activity you're member):
 - ◆ np02-t0comp-users ↗ or
 - ◆ np04-t0comp-users ↗ or
 - ◆ np-comp ↗ if you do not belong to none of the above.
- Then follow this link.
- A HowTo will be available soon.

About CERNBox Installation:

- <http://cernbox.cern.ch/cernbox/doc/clients.html>
 - (e.g. Linux <http://cernbox.cern.ch/cernbox/doc/linux.html> straightforward but then we need to use X11 to access client).
 - <https://cern.service-now.com/service-portal/article.do?n=KB0002996>
 - <https://cern.service-now.com/service-portal/article.do?n=KB0004529>
 - <https://cern.service-now.com/service-portal/article.do?n=KB0004801>
 - and you can also browse your files: <https://cernbox.cern.ch>
