User Community Expansion and Support (NA4)

The pages here contain information about internal activities of the NA4 activity. Information for the broader EGEE user community can be found on the primary EGEE web site.

The activity uses a set of Collaborative Tools to improve its internal communication and efficiency. Feel free to suggest additional tools or changes to the existing tools, if either would make your work more efficient or more pleasant.

To clarify how the activity will provide its services to the user community, a set of Policies and Procedures has been established. Comments, questions, or additions to these policies and procedures are welcome. Contact the project management.

The activity is divided into twelve separate teams. Internal pages for each are given below. People in the activity also participate in various technical working groups. Some information about that participation is given on the NA4 Working Groups page.

The current NA4 Activity Backlog contains items currently being treated by the NA4 Steering Committee. If there are issues that do not appear on that list, please contact your team leader to make sure the issue is brought to the attention of the activity management.

NA4 maintains a list of web pages for public consumption on the primary EGEE website. In this wiki you can also find information for the gLite and MATLAB Toolkit Integration activity.

Looking towards the future there is a page listing SSCs and future projects along with contact persons.
