DJRA1.1.4 - Compute Area Work Plan and Status Report (PM36)

This deliverable contains the detailed work plan of the Compute Services technical area compliant with the overall EMI Technical Development Plan. The plan is released early in the project life and updated every year including a status report on the achievements of the past 12 months compared to the planned objectives. The status report at M03 will cover the state-of-the art while the work plan at M36 will provide recommendations for further work. [month 36]
This is an update of DJRA1.1.3 - Compute Area Work Plan and Status Report (M24)

From the EC report on the DJRA1.1.3 Compute Area Work Plan and Status Report :
This deliverable reports on the progress made towards unification of the compute elements in the EMI source middleware into a coherent EMI package. This has been achieved mainly through the completion of work implementing the EMI Execution Service. As such, this deliverable reports on one of the significant milestones achieved during the EMI life-cycle. All components of the EMI-ES and related components are then identified and the modifications made are elaborated. A high level outline plan of activities to be carried out during the final year of the project is included in appendices: the tasks elaborated here are very ambitious and, given the pressure to work up to a defined quality standard in this project, the scope may need to be refined. Quality must not suffer merely to improve quantity. The table in section 2.15 has twice mentioned Scientific Linux 6 which seems to be a side effect of a cut&paste.

From the EC report on all deliverables updated periodically:
For deliverables that are just updated versions of previous ones, they should highlight what are the main differences compared to the previous versions
