

GLiteCertification < LCG < TWiki

The patches that are currently in certification can be seen in Savannah: Patches in certification[?]. The "Assigned To" column shows who is taking care of a patch. If "Assigned To" is set to "egetest" this means that nobody is currently looking at this patch in particular. However the relevant rpms are already installed on the certification testbed and thus all tests we run on the testbed also concern patches assigned to "egetest".

We run layer 1 and layer 2 tests every day within SAM: CTB's SAM portal[?] (this link is not visible outside CERN). Other tests are run as needed. We are working on also publishing these results into SAM.
