FAQ:

How do I register as a CERN TWiki user?

Answer:

To register:

- Authentication to TWiki at CERN has changed from AFS login to the CERN Single Sign On (CERN login)↗ on Tuesday September 18th. To logon to TWiki with the CERN login↗, you can use your CERN account↗ (existing MAIL, NICE or AIS/EDH login) or your "external account" like for CDS, Indico or Simba mailing lists.
- External users without a CERN account, may obtain a CERN external account↗ through the "Light registration procedure" that is already used for mailing lists and Indico accounts.
- Go to TWikiRegistration and enter your details.
- You will be asked to login only if you need to access protected data or want to edit a document.
