

Question

Hi guys,

my cern SSO has changed, along with my email address. How can I link up my new email/login with my old one?

All I did was update my email through CERN, and now I can't edit my own pages on the TWiki.

Thanks,

Rob

The TWiki registration has been updated to reflect the change of email.

For CERN account TWiki will try to automatically correct the email details for a user. External accounts can not be updated automatically and users should request help through twtool.support@cernNOSPAMPLEASE.ch
